Communicate Scope to Clients. You should include a section in your intake form that outlines your scope of practice, so that there is no confusion on the client's part. This is an example; various forms of this release text may be found online: Please read carefully and sign where indicated: I understand that massage or bodywork may be contraindicated for certain medical conditions or symptoms. Sponsored by RockTape. Cupping is not a new therapeutic modality.. This ancient method of soft-tissue intervention has been traced back to one of oldest medical textbooks in history, The Ebers Papyrus, written in 1550 BC, which describes Egyptians' use of cupping techniques.
